State Fox Hunt at Crab Orchard.

The attention of the INTERIOR JOURNAL has been called to an illustrated article on "Beagles For Fox Hunting" in "The American Field" of Sept. 14, from the pen of Gen. W. H. Gentry, promoter of the Kentucky Beagle Club, which will be organized in November at Crab Orchard Springs. This is a subject of absorbing interest to the sport-loving people of Kentucky and it is safe to say that the association will be memorable for the size of the crowd and the quality of the sport afforded. Gen. Gentry has heretofore devoted his efforts to hunting and fishing in Florida, with an occasional chase over the blue grass country at night when a number of his neighbors could be interested. He and his son Lawrence, own a fine collection of beagles and both are enthusiasts on the subject of the beagle. Maj. P. P. Johnston, president of the National Trotting Association, and a man well known in the political world, is another sportsman whose attention of late has been called to the beagle, and his pack at his home at historical Bryan Station is as fine a lot of merry little fellows as ever crowded in a kennel. Major Foxhall A. Dainzgerfeld, brother-in-law of Jas. R. Keene, the Wall Street millionaire broker and keeper of Castleton Farm, also has a fine lot of beagles and is interested in the proposed new association. Miller Ward, of Paris, is another, and scores of others will be on hand. Speaking of the country about Crab Orchard, Gen. Gentry, who was schooled among the fields and hills of this beautiful spot, says:

"The country is the home of the fox. He was chased here by my father and brothers with the Walkers, the Helms, the Kennedys and other well-known fox hunters. I have arranged with Joseph Willis, lessee of the property, to open the place for 10 days, beginning Nov. 20, and we are going to arrange for three classes of sport—quail hunting, field trials of beagles after the mountain rabbits and the fox hound trials after native and native foxes. We have now eight foxes, three of which will be used for the beagles and five for the larger hounds in case we will not be able to find native foxes at the time of the opening of the meeting. The meet will last two weeks, and coming just after the meeting of the National Fox Hunters' Association at Easton Springs, we may expect many of the devotees of the big dogs to join us for our trials at Crab Orchard.

Reports from the grounds are to the effect that quail and foxes are more abundant than in years. It is stated that there are plenty of foxes and that it will not be necessary to bring along any captured ones, but of course we might need them. Men seeking a variety of sports consider Crab Orchard Springs one of the best locations in Kentucky. It was a famous hunting ground of Col. Dick Gentry, the revolutionary soldier, whose remains lie buried in sight of the grounds, and his sons, Joseph Gentry, Robert Gentry, and others. Of more recent date the noted Point Level hunters, Arch and Steve Walker, have hunted over this country and add praise to its merits. By the way, this was the famous hunting ground of the noted Wash Maupin, the greatest of all Kentucky fox hunters. From every side you will hear that Maupin was the greatest woodsman of his time and I guess this was true. The Reeds were great woodsmen and in the present day there are a number of good hunters, but Maupin was the pioneer hunter.

The country adjacent to Crab Orchard is open, traversed by occasional small streams, and the scenery is most beautiful. The place formerly was a famous health resort, where the waters were regarded as healing and health giving. It was the Saratoga of the West, located among the foothills of the Cumberland Mountains. Senator Dan Moore, of Harrodsburg, Col. E. F. Clay, of Paris; are among the many sportsmen who will attend the meet. There is an effort on foot to induce Hon. W. C. Whitney to be present. The meet will be about the season of the year when Mr. Whitney makes his annual visit to his breeding establishment in Fayette county, and his friends are making an endeavor to have him present.

The formation of the club will give renewed interest to chasing foxes with beagles, and it is proposed that in the spring there will be field trials followed by semi-annual meetings of the club for field trials, when all owners of beagles will be invited to participate.

In anaemia and most women's ailments the digestion is weak, the making of color, flesh and strength out of food is imperfect so that the patient is weak, wan, nervous and dyspeptic. This condition can be corrected by taking a course of HERBINE. Price 50c. For sale at Penny's Drug Store.

Harry Bayless committed suicide on his mother's grave at Fort Wayne, Ind.

MIDDLEBURG.

G. S. Durham is quite ill.

Born to the wife of C. C. Lanham, a daughter. Mother and babe doing well. A school election will be held at the College Saturday next to elect a trustee to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Trustee Jones.

G. R. Jeter, besides being at the head of a dozen or more enterprises, has gone into the spoke business. He will pay best prices for spokes delivered to him at the burg.

Even late corn is now sufficiently matured that little apprehension is felt for "Old Crimp." Sorghum making is in full blast. Irish potatoes are very light and hardly worth the digging.

M. W. Jones, the people's candidate for judge, is making a clean and honorable fight and is gaining ground daily. He has scared the captain up, who by the way, takes his rounds daily. So far modeling and billingsgate have been eliminated from the campaign, each of them making the race on their merits, in which case the people should not be slow to decide.

James W. Short and Miss Lulu Frederick were united in the holy bonds of wedlock at Liberty Wednesday, Judge Tilford officiating. The bride is 18 years of age, pretty and very popular with her host of friends. The groom is about 30 years of age and one of the most popular and prominent young men in this section. He will conduct a livery stable at Moreland.

The protracted meeting which has been going on at the Baptist church, continues, and with a good attendance and marked order. The Christian people in general are lending their aid, which alone insures success. There have been a number of conversions to date. These series of meetings which are being conducted by Revs. Simms and Ferrell, will probably continue throughout the week.

Jordan McWhorter lays claim to the most intelligent horse in town, and we know no reason why he is not justly entitled to the claim. For some weeks past Mr. Keeney's ducks have been trespassing on the premises of the former gentleman and at evening would come near the gate to roost. Every evening the faithful old horse will take hold of the ducks one by one and tenderly lift them over the fence.

John Paul, who has been living in the Cowan property, has moved into the Moran property on Race Street. M. S. McMullin, of Yosemite, will move into the house vacated by Mr. Paul. Richard McDaniel, who has been living near Burnside, has moved into the Coffey house near the Lagoon. Arthur Short has moved near Calvary. Rev. Josh Taylor, of Pulaski, will move to Middleburg early next month. Rev. Earle D. Simms lectured to the school Friday morning, the subject being "China and Confucianism." Bro. Simms is a good lecturer and a most forcible speaker and was attentively listened to. He promised the smaller children to return one day next week when he will talk to them on geography. As he has seen most of the world and came in contact with its various people, a treat as a consequence may be expected.

The Fourteenth Regulars, who stood guard around the dying president at Buffalo were the men who followed Lincoln to the death trap, and stood steady under a hail of lead, that their fellow soldiers might win on the other side of the Chinese fort. Are we not too apt to look upon the regular as a machine only? It was the above organization that young Russell Elliott, of this county, belonged to, and who lost his life on the Pekin walls. There are a score or more of boys from Casey, Lincoln and Pulaski counties in the 14th, which is held by many army men to be the "crack" of the service.

Mrs. W. J. Godbey is visiting relatives at Esto and Russell Springs. Joe Henderson, a veteran of the Philippine Insurrection, left Tuesday for Rockwood, Tenn., where he will be absent several weeks. Messrs. Jason Wesley and Spurgeon Simpson returned from Lancaster Friday, where they visited relatives. Dr. Haney is attending the Inter-State Fair at Louisville. Wesley Hogue, of High Bridge, is visiting his parents at this place. Miss Bettie Tilford, the pretty and accomplished daughter of Judge Tilford, is visiting relatives and friends here. Miss Mary Russell returned Friday from Lincoln county, where she has been visiting relatives. Mr. Ivy Hopper, of Somerset, lately returned from Kansas, where he had a siege of the small pox, is visiting relatives in this vicinity. C. C.

Corn huskers' sprained wrists, barbed wire cuts, burns, bruises, severe lacerations and external injuries or any kind are promptly and happily cured by applying BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT. Price 25c and 50c. For sale at Penny's.

Many rules for the pronunciation of the name of the president's assassin are going the rounds. The final pronunciation will be "d-e-a-d."—Commoner.

C. E. Miller, of Rochester, Ill., bought in this and Garrard counties 420 1,000 to 1,100-pound cattle at 4c. They will be shipped about the middle of November.

Came to my place about the 10th a black sow and barrow, weight about 150 pounds. Owner can have same by proving them and by paying for their keep and this notice. W. H. Duderar, Rowland. 3t.

Lincoln King, raised by W. H. Murphy, of this county, was sold by W. W. Galloway, of McKlone, Texas, to Arthur Masie for $1,000. Lincoln King is a saddle stallion and is an excellent specimen of the equine family. Mr. Murphy still owns his dam and Lincoln King is the third one of her offspring to sell for as much as $1,000.

The race for the $3,000 Tennessee Stake, on the first day of the big Lexington trots, promises to be one of the best races of the great meeting. In it are the unbeaten Dan Patch, 2:04; Sir Alicantara, 2:05; Gazette, 2:06; Geer's great pacer, Shadow Chimes, 2:06; The Admiral, 2:07; Major Muscovite, 2:07; Will Leyburn, 2:07; and other high class race horses. The meeting runs from Oct. 8 to 18. Half fare on all railroads.

CHURCH MATTERS.

Danville Baptists have purchased a $2,500 organ.

Rev. J. B. Crouch's meeting at the Baptist church at Brumfield resulted in eight additions to that church.

The next meeting of the Kentucky Conference of the Methodist church will be held in the Trinity Methodist church in Louisville.

Andrew Carnegie bought 350 organs for churches in Scotland, the aggregate cost of the instruments being nearly a million dollars.

A motion to reduce the number of presiding elder districts in the Methodist Church, South, was defeated at the convention in Bowling Green.

Rev. W. S. Grinstead will preach his last sermon for this conference year at the Methodist church here next Sunday. He will leave Tuesday to attend conference, which meets at Shelbyville. Bro. Grinstead is an excellent divine and we hope to have him with us another year.—Spencer Courier.

NOTHING LIKE OIL.

"In dealing with man, remember that a spoonful of oil will go farther than a gallon of vinegar." The same may be said of children. There is nothing so good for children as the old-fashioned castor oil. However much they may abhor it, it is their best medicine for disorders of the bowels. In the more severe cases of diarrhoea and dysentery, however, Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy should be given after the oil operates and a quick cure is sure to follow. For sale by Craig & Hocker.

For a bad taste in the mouth take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. For sale by Craig & Hocker.

LANCASTER.

Rev. A. R. Moore, who has been away on a vacation, returned Saturday night and filled his pulpit Sunday morning and evening.

The Ladies' Aid Society, of the Christian church, will meet on next Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Wm. Walden on Danville street.

John Farra, the greatest hustler in Lancaster, was heard to say the other day, "O, we are sure of the railroad." We trust that Mr. Farra is right on this point, and he is usually right, too.

FOR RENT—In Lancaster, a house of 10 rooms, garden and stable. Centrally located and well suited for a boarding house. For reference, John M. Orand, 8th and Jefferson Streets, Waco, Texas.

The 50-odd gentlemen, who went over to Louisville to attend the fair last week, came back in high spirits. They say that whatever we can do for Louisville, we should do and Louisville will do all she can for us. What is to her interest, is to our interest, and what helps her, helps us.

Miss Gene Dunlap, of Louisville, who has been the charming guest of Misses Bertha and Mary Burnside, on Danville Avenue, left Saturday for her home. Mrs. Brooks and daughter, Miss Mollie, were with Mrs. A. H. Bastin during the convention. Dr. W. S. Beazley has been quite sick. Among those who came over from Stanford to attend the C. W. B. M. convention were: Mesdames Alice Cloyd and Eliza Bial; Misses Etta Belle Cloyd, Ella May Saunders, Virginia Warren, Lucille Cooper, Stella McClary, Allie and Susan VanArsdale and Mr. E. T. Beazley.

The people of our town were very agreeably surprised on Thursday evening when the Southern Military Band of Crab Orchard came over and gave us some excellent music. The band is composed of 18 men and boys of Crab Orchard, who certainly know what good music is. Prof. Riggs, who is director, when asked about the organization of the band, said: "The Southern Military Band of Crab Orchard, Ky., was organized Dec. 1, 1900, and incorporated June 28, 1901, with 18 members. Their organization is like that of a National Bank, i. e., each member owns a share. There are 20 shares at present, but the capital stock will be increased soon to $1,000."

The district convention of the Christian Women's Board of Missions, comprising Lincoln, Garrard, Rockcastle and Madison counties, convened at the Christian church here Thursday morning. An interesting program was carried out during the morning hours and then an excellent dinner was served. The afternoon session was taken up by addresses by different members of the association. At the evening session, Mrs. Harris, of Lexington, who is president, delivered an address, which was very interesting. The music was fine and the program was carried out in a way that was a credit to those taking part. This was one of the most interesting meetings ever held by the society and the members of the Lancaster Auxiliary should feel very proud of their success, and should be ready to again take up their work, much encouraged.

A CERTAIN CURE FOR DYSENTERY AND DIARRHOEA.

"Some years ago I was one of a party that intended making a long bicycle trip," says F. L. Taylor, of New Albany, Bradford County, Pa. "I was taken suddenly with diarrhoea and was about to give up the trip, when editor Ward, of the Laceyville Messenger, suggested that I take a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I purchased the bottle and took two doses, one before starting and one on the route. I made the trip successfully and never felt any ill effect. Again, last summer, I was almost completely run down with an attack of dysentery. I bought a bottle of this same remedy and this time one dose cured me. For sale by Craig & Hocker.

Issac Pearson, who was appointed trustee by Mercer county for the railroad bonds issued by that county to aid in the construction of the Louisville Southern, was awarded $4,000 in the Boyle circuit court for services as trustee, expenses while acting as such and lawyers' fees. Pearson sued for $9,000. The case was brought to Danville on a change of venue.

There are thousands of people suffering untold torture from piles, because of the popular impression that they cannot be cured. TABLER'S BUCKEYE PILE OINTMENT will cure them and the patient will remain cured. Price 50c in bottles; tubes 75c. For sale at Penny's.

THE brief space of time intervening the assault upon the life of President McKinley and the conviction of his assassin has proven a prolific theme of general comment throughout the country. Metropolitan newspapers have deemed both the fact of the speedy trial and the expressed approbation of it of sufficient importance to justify the collection and reproduction of all accessible commentaries. The majority of these find in the simple fact of a speedy trial an evidence of an awakened sense of public duty in the judiciary as well as in the juries. Without at all discounting this view, and freely concurring in the implied accusation that both judges and jurors often need a stimulus to more determined efforts to prevent crime by speedier trials and the infliction of more adequate punishments, it would seem that a better lesson is taught by the quick conviction of Czolgosz than the one which lies so plainly on the surface. It is a lesson which the people should learn for themselves and faithfully endeavor to put in practice. They should become pupils as well as teachers. It is quite an easy task, as it is quite an old practice, to harangue courts and juries about their duties to the public. This has been done so long and so repeatedly that the wonder is that these tribunals have not been made callous by the perfunctory chastisement. But let us look a little further than this. Why is it that the assassin of the president is sentenced to execution within a few weeks only after the commission of his act? It is not because the act was witnessed by a cloud of witnesses whose concurring evidence would overwhelmingly establish the fact of the shooting. Thousands of crimes have been committed in this country where the act done is as easily susceptible of absolute proof. Primarily and chiefly, it is because the entire country was aroused to the highest point of disapprobation of the deed. In other words and in plainer speech, public sentiment was against it. Public sentiment unmistakably condemned it. So, therefore, it must be open to shallow observation that if the people desire speedy trials and sure convictions where crimes have been committed, they should arouse themselves, not simply their servants. They should awaken their own consciences, not simply prick the consciences of public officials. Whenever the people are aroused to the great danger to the country from assassinations, thefts in high places, perjuries to rob the public treasury, combinations to defraud individuals and the public alike—in other words when public sentiment against such high crimes shall assume such definite shape as that the servants of the people can not fail to note it, then may we expect the speedy trial and certain conviction. Public officials simply reflect the views and sentiments and desires of the public at large. If the people themselves are indifferent to the baneful effects of crimes against person and property, it is against reason to expect efficient service from the servant in the administration of criminal laws. If there were in the United States a large political party—respectable only in numbers—which approved the assassination of the president, Czolgosz would yet be unconvicted. If, perchance, he might have escaped immediate capture, he could have found an asylum among those partisans. But being captured, this same congregation of partisans would have employed counsel for his defense, jurors would have been challenged to the uttermost limit of the law, the plea of insanity would have been interposed, possibly the assassin would have been directed to fall down in a simulated fit, flowers and delicacies would have been sent to him in jail, the judge of the court would have been accused of being an uncircumcised barbarian for not suspending the trial, and among his friends he would have been canonized as a martyr to civil liberty.

But happily for the country, beautifully to the credit of its moral sense, there is no considerable body of people in this country which approves, either openly or secretly, the assassination of the president. Public sentiment denounces the act and condemns the actor. It is rather a breezy and faulty figure of speech, but if the people will inoculate themselves with a righteous indignation against all kinds of high crimes—assassinations, public pilfering, treasury thefts and raids on public money—we will have a better service in our courts, by our juries, and the hangman will have his lining.

THE Monticello Record has been changed to the Monticello Courier by its new owners, Messrs. White & Hancock. The paper has also been increased to a six-column folio. At its masthead appears the republican county ticket and we presume its politics has also been changed, to the paper's shame be it said.

HON. W. J. BRYAN makes this very sensible suggestion in his Commencement Address: After Czolgosz is condemned and executed (the sooner the better) it might be proper to ask the governor of Indiana to surrender the man who is under indictment for aiding in the assassination of Gov. Goebel.

THE last issue of the Danville News was good enough to be preserved for all time to come. The questions it asked the Advocate, on its return to the democratic party, were deadeners and we opine Mr. Woolfolk will have a hard time answering them.

THE Georgetown Times has put in a 34x48 Cottrell & Babcock stop cylinder press, which is said to be a daisy. It weighs 24,000 pounds and is especially adapted to book work and the printing of half tone cuts.

Friends of Charles C. Spaulding, of Lebanon, are urging him to run for Congress. He has served four terms in the Legislature and is chairman of the Marion county democratic committee.

Thos. Rothwell, aged 94, died at his home in Menefee county. Rothwell was a life-long democrat, and when Andrew Jackson ran for the presidency, he walked from Pennsylvania, where he was working, to vote for Jackson.

Having but one loyal newspaper in New York, Richard Croker has decided to keep the Tammany Hall ticket before the public by advertising in theater programs, on dead walls and in the street cars and elevated trains.

COOLEY.—Lenna Jane, the five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cooley, died Saturday morning of scarlet fever after a seven days' illness and was buried at Mt. Moriah church. Little Lenna was an unusually bright child.

THE Danville News says that the Lincoln jury "fell down" on the Boyle case in its verdict in the Montgomery case. We think ourselves that the Negro should have been hung, but 12 monstrous good men thought a life sentence was sufficient and as they heard the testimony and we did not we are fully satisfied with their judgment.

AFFIRMED.—The court of appeals affirmed the decision of Judge M. C. Sandley in the case of Robert Wilson and William Clymer, who got 15 and 10 years, respectively, in the Lincoln circuit court. They were charged with raping Miss Salie Crabtree. Hon. R. C. Warren and Son and J. Mort Rothwell represented Wilson and Clymer in the court of appeals and they will ask a rehearing.

CONFESED.—Capt. W. W. Penn, Junction City's good marshal, arrested the scamps who stole Mrs. Mary Veatch's trunk at that place and they are now in the Danville jail. They have confessed to the theft and will as certainly go "over the road" as they live to be tried. All are colored and their names are Clarence Burton, Geo. Jack, of Lebanon, and Jerry Murrill, of Columbia. Capt. Penn found a portion of the clothing stolen.

MR. JAMES B. OWENS, of this place, has been secured as mine host of the new hotel at Williamsburg and will open it to the public Dec. 1. Mr. Owens is a born hotel man and he and Mrs. Owens will make it a popular hostelry and should do well. Williamsburg has long needed a good hotel and we are sure the town will have one now. The hotel building is a 30-room brick structure, modern in its make-up and is newly furnished throughout.

MINUTES.—Mr. E. B. Caldwell, Jr., who has been secretary for years and will be as long as he will serve, sends us the minutes of the Cumberland River Baptist Association, which was held with Flat Lick church, Pulaski county, the first week in September. This is about the 25th time we have printed these minutes and it has been through the kindness of Mr. Caldwell that we have secured the work. The I. J. has few better or more substantial friends than Mr. Caldwell.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS.—Six per cent, penalty will be added to all city taxes not paid before Nov. 1, 1901. L. R. Hughes collector.

THE C. W. B. M. will meet in the lecture room of the Christian church to-morrow afternoon at 2:30. All members are requested to attend as this will be the most important meeting since the organization of the auxiliary.

WE have placed the name of Dink Farmer, of Stanford, upon our subscription list to remain without cost until he is elected jaller of Lincoln county as an evidence of appreciation of his faithfulness to his party.—Somerset Journal.

MISS KING and Miss Higgins, the Crab Orchard milliners, have just returned from the cities with a full line of the latest novelties in both millinery and dress-making. They will have their opening Friday next and cordially invite the public to examine their stock.

THE democrats of Rockcastle met at Mt. Vernon Saturday and decided to leave the matter of nominating candidates for county offices to the county committee, which will meet Thursday. We'll wager that Attorney R. L. Brown will be the nominee for county judge.

RICE.—Mr. Andrew J. Rice, one of the cleverest men in Garrard, died Saturday, aged 68. He was a fine old gentleman and a tried and true democrat. Howard, Virgil and W. R. Rice are three of his sons who survive. "Big Rice," as he was affectionately called, was a universally popular man and his death has caused much regret.

NEW OIL COMPANY.—A new oil company known as the Beaver Creek Oil & Gas Co., with a capital stock of $3,000 will be incorporated at once. The incorporators are Sheriff S. M. Owens, Judge W. M. Myers, George D. Weatherford and Dr. J. C. Barker. The lands leased are on Beaver Creek in Wayne county and are within a quarter of a mile of producing wells. The famous Sunnbrook well is close by.

KING.—Mrs. Virginia King, who was badly burned by the explosion of a lamp at Lawrenceburg, in which her daughter, Mrs. Farris R. Feland, lost her life, died Saturday evening and was buried in Buffalo cemetery Sunday afternoon in the presence of a large crowd. Mrs. King was the widow of the late Eld. S. H. King, and was one of the best women that ever lived in this county. She was 64 years old and had been a consistent member of the Christian church for many years. Her life was a beautiful one and that such an excellent woman should die so horrible a death, seems strange indeed, but He moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform and the agonies Mrs. King suffered may yet redound to some good. A number of children, both married and single, are left to mourn the loss of a devoted and indulgent mother and in this hour of their bereavement they have the sympathy of all. Eld. Shouse, of Lexington, made a most appropriate and touching talk at the grave, after which all that was mortal of the lovely and godly woman and devoted mother was laid to rest by the side of her husband, who has slept the sleep that knows no waking nearly 20 years. The grave was literally covered with beautiful flowers.

DYKE.—Bailey Drye, oldest son of Mrs. Priscilla Drye, of Hustonville, died at Hot Springs, Ark., Saturday, of consumption of the bowels and liver and will be buried in the Hustonville cemetery at 9 o'clock this morning after a short service at the grave by Elder B. J. Pinkerton. It was intended that the burial should take place yesterday afternoon, but the train bringing the remains did not arrive in time. Mr. Drye was a big hearted, clever man and made friends of all with whom he came in contact. He traveled a great deal and naturally smart, he amassed a great amount of information and was a most interesting gentleman. His aged mother, and the good Lord never made many better mothers than she is, is crushed with grief at the death of her oldest child and many a heart goes out to her this morning as she watches tender hands lay her beloved son to rest. May He who doeth all things well comfort her in her great sorrow and cause her to soon realize that her offspring is taken for some good and noble purpose. Much sympathy is also felt for the sister and brother who are left behind and God grant that they too may be comforted. A large number of friends met the remains at Moreland yesterday and followed them to Mr. W. L. Evans', where scores of sympathetic friends gathered to condole with the sorrowing ones.

THIRTY-TWO varieties of assorted sizes in cooking and heating stoves. Look at our line before you buy. Geo. H. Farris & Co.

BOYLE county republicans went through the silly operation of putting out the following ticket: For Judge, W. S. Lawwill; Sheriff, N. K. Tunis; Superintendent, W. C. Poynter; Assessor, I. W. Spier; Clerk, Sam Minor; Surveyor, Dr. A. B. Nelson; Jailer, Sam Westerfield; Representative, August Miller, of Junction City. The splendid ticket the democrats have ought to beat this crew hands down.

Happiness depends very much on the condition of the liver and kidneys. The ills of life make but little impression on those whose digestion is good. You can regulate your liver and kidneys with HERBINE and enjoy health and buoyancy of spirits. Price 50c. For sale at Penny's Drug Store

State College of Kentucky.

The Agricultural and Mechanical (State College) College of Kentucky offers the following courses of study, viz: Agricultural, Horticultural, Chemical, Biological, Mathematical, Normal School, Classical, Mechanical Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Civil Engineering, each of which extends over four years and leads to a degree. Post-graduate courses of study are also provided, leading each to a master's degree. Each course of study is organized under a separate faculty. The general faculty numbers more than thirty professors and instructors. COUNTY APPOINTEES receive tuition, room rent in dormitory, fuel and lights, and if they remain ten months, traveling expenses. The laboratories and museums are large, well equipped, comprehensive and modern. The last Legislature appropriated $30,000 for a college home for young women and a drill hall and gymnasium has been provided for men. Military tactics and science are fully provided for, as required by Congress. Graduates from the several courses of study readily find excellent positions and liberal remuneration. The demand is largely in excess of the ability of the college to supply. Last year the matriculation list was 620. For catalogues, method of obtaining appointments, information regarding courses of study and terms of admission, apply to JAMES K. PATTERSON, Ph. D., LL. D., President, LEXINGTON, KY. Fall term begins September 1, 1901.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be in and able. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with such ideas, men, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, has therefore required constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.
